

GOOD CROWD HEARS BLACK

Governor Holds His Crowd for More Than Hour and Half in Spite of the Hot Weather.

Gov. James D. Black addressed the voters of this county at the Court House yesterday afternoon in the interest of his candidacy for the Democratic nomination in August. He was introduced in a neat speech by County Attorney W. A. Samuels. The weather was exceedingly warm but he held his audience which, by the way, was larger than either Col. Denhardt or Judge Carroll had, for nearly an hour and thirty minutes. He was frequently applauded and there was more real enthusiasm shown than at any political meeting here this year. In a straightforward manner he explained his position on many important matters. His explanation of the writing of the much talked about L. & N. R. R. letter was well received and it is not thought by his friends that this letter will hurt him in this county. He said he could explain why Squire Turner, of the Sentinel-Democrat, of this city said in its last issue that on account of the L. & N. R. R. letter that Governor Black should not make the race as it would prove hurtful to the Democratic party, both in the state and nation. Governor Black recalled the fact that he was the man who had charge of the campaign of Mr. Turner's father when he ran and was elected to Congress and recited how he had worked for him and how he regretted that now the son of his old friend should go into the camp of his enemy and said he believed it was for the reason that Judge C. C. Turner, of Frankfort, and a brother of the editor of the Sentinel-Democrat had been promised a job in case Judge Carroll was nominated, or at least it was so rumored in Frankfort. He also said he regretted that the friendship of a lifetime should be so easily broken. He asserted he was the one man now running who could defeat Ed. Morrow and called attention to the fact that the Republican state papers were continually saying to discourage his friends that he was getting weaker in the mountains; that this was absolutely untrue and that his following was increasing rather than decreasing.

He said that the various matters at Frankfort were receiving his attention and that the Harkness and Bingham tax suits would be carefully looked after, as well as the investigations of the charitable and other institutions and promised that wherever anything wrong had been done that the guilty would be punished. He touched on the tax law which is the paramount issue in this county and promised that such relief as could fairly be given the farmer and land owner would be recommended by him to the next Legislature. This statement brought forth a thunder of applause. A large number of people crowded forward to shake hands with him after his speech and many voters discussed the rumor current at Frankfort that the Governor means to make radical changes in the State Board of Control, the School Book Commission and possibly the State Tax Commission and that this action will be followed up with new appointments of approved merit and a complete sweep among the political employees at the prisons, insane asylums, etc., putting in only men of merit and experience.

PRICE OF CATTLE OFF

Nice Run on the Market, But Mountain Traders lose Money by Slump in Prices.

Fully 2,000 head of cattle on hand, plenty of buyers for cows and heifers at a price $2.00 per hundred less than last court day. Very few buyers for steers, but one buyer for high-class cattle, Prewitt Vanmeter, of Winchester, who bought about 60 head; 36 fine 800-lb 2-year-old black steers at the top price of the day, 11½ cents, the other 25 head about same weight, but not so good quality for which he paid 10 cents per pound. Up to 3 P. M. the yards were full of cattle. The mountain men, hating to sell them for less money than they paid for them in the mountains. The slump was caused by decline in prices in the cities on fat cattle. The prices quoted below will give a fair estimate.

mate of the drop in prices since last court:

George Hunt bought 24 cows (mixed) at 6¾ cents.
Coon Allen, 50 yearlings, 400-lb steers, at 10 cents.
Mike Wilson, 11 heifers at 9¾ cents.

Thirty head of steers and heifers to Ed. Lawrence at 10 cents.

Allie Kearns, 10 cows at 7 cents.
Wade and Ervin, 12 cows at 6¾ cents.

H. C. Herman, 6 small steers at $25.

J. H. Day, 20 500-lb heifers at 9½ cents.

Smallest crowd for many moons, worst court day for months, the farmers all being busy plowing corn and tobacco, both of which look well and are well advanced for the season.

A ear load of horses from Indiana, about half of which were crippled on trip here, sold for about $50 average. The unhurt ones from $100 to $200.

Very little other stock on hand.

HAIL!

JONES: Have any rain last night, Smith?

SMITH: Yes, a hard one, and with Hail; nearly ruined by tobacco. Cut it all to pieces.

JONES: Have it insured?

SMITH: No, not a cent on it and I'm afraid 'twill darn near put me out of business, too.

JONES: Well, you're certainly a "wise guy." Didn't you know you could have insured it against Hail for $50 an acre for only $4.00; or $100 an acre for only $7.00?

SMITH: Yes, I knew that BUT I DIDN'T THINK IT WOULD GET ME; in fact, I had forgotten it. Think I'll go in right now and "TALK WITH HOFFMAN" and insure the crop on the other farm. They say "Lightning doesn't strike in the same place twice," but I can't afford to take any more chances.

MORAL: DON'T BE CAUGHT LIKE SMITH.
